SECOND FRONT PORCH SPEECH

Republican Nominee is for "Industrial and Social Peace at Home."

Decrys Appeals to Class as Menace to Country and Discusses League of Nations.

(By Associated Press)

Marion, O., August 4.—Decrying appeals to classes as a menace second only to surrender of nationality to internationalism, Senator Harding, in his second front porch presidential campaign speech, today declared if he could choose but one he would "rather have industrial and social peace at home than command the international peace of all the world."

He asserted it would be unwise for this country to permit "our activities in seeking for peace in the old world to blind us to the essentials of peace at home," and added that "if America can be made to forget the attempted barter of nationality, well and good;" but that "when nationality is surrendered to internationalism, little else matters, and all appeal is vain."

The address was delivered to a delegation of Wayne County, Ohio republicans. Taking up the league of nations, Senator Harding declared it to be the other extreme to a referendum on a proposed declaration of war.

"I emphatically agree," he said "that no authority other than Congress may call our boys to battle. Accepting this truth, why make a covenant which violates the good faith of nations."

"Suppose," he continued, "that under Article Ten a program of armed force is agreed upon and the Congress of the United States declines to respond."

MEX WAR MINISTER WILL NOT BE IDLE

Gen. P. E. Calles.

Despite the surrender of General Villa, Gen. P. E. Calles, minister of war in the new Mexican cabinet, is not likely to have an easy time this summer. The newest trouble maker is Esteban Cantu, governor of Lower California, against whom Calles has sent a detachment of federal troops.

"The executive would be called upon to carry on a war without constitutional authority, or we would prove our compact no more than a scrap of paper. We are on the side of both safety and honor, to hold for ourselves the decision of our obligations to the world."

STILL PLAN FOR SPEAKING TOUR FOR NOMINEE

Half Dozen Speeches in Big Cities Suggested for Harding

(By Associated Press.)

Marion, O., August 4.—While Senator Harding's front porch campaign goes forward his managers and advisers are counselling over several proposals for speaking dates away from Marion.

One plan suggested would include speeches in a half dozen of the larger eastern and middle western cities and another would carry him to the Pacific and Atlantic coasts and as far south as Tennessee.

It was said at his headquarters today, however, there probably would be no decision on this matter until after a conference of leaders in New York Thursday.

CONSIDER POLAND'S PLIGHT

(By Associated Press)

Washington, August 3.—With the desperate plight of Poland emphasized in dispatches foreshadowing the imminent fall of Warsaw and telling of the proclamation in Polish districts of a soviet government, the position of the United States towards the swift development of events in Europe today engaged the serious condition of officials of the government.

Despite reiterated appeals to the United States government by Poland for extension of moral if not material aid, there has been as yet no disposition shown among officials to reflect a departure of the United States from the neutral position assumed at the beginning. Officials have held that in as much as the present conflict originated from causes to which the United States was not a party, this country should continue its present position.

(By Associated Press)

Payments on redeemed certificates yesterday by Ponzi amounted to $500,000. Edwin L. Plide, government accountant investigating Ponzi's books said today.

Fire Marshal Asked to Make Investigation as to Origin.

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., August 4.—Bradford, Ohio, a railroad town in Miami county, of 2,000 population, was completely wiped out by fire early today, according to a telegram received this morning.

The telegram requested an investigator of the state fire marshal's office be sent to Bradford immediately, and one of the officials of that office left on the first train.

Additional information received stated the fire broke out at 10:40 o'clock last night in Arnold's lumber yard, and that for a time it blazed so fiercely that through Pennsylvania trains had to be held up outside Bradford.

At midnight, reports said, the water pressure became low. The elevator belonging to Arnold & Giddings was destroyed, as was practically everything south of Main street and between Arnold's elevator and Main street.

Reports that the loss will reach $1,000,000 were confirmed by later reports.

Reports that the fire was of incendiary origin are being investigated today.

MRS. M. E. SMITH, prominent Tampa, Florida, woman, who says, thanks to Tanlac, she is now able to walk around without the help of a cane after eight long years of suffering. Says friends are all astonished at her improvement.

"I am so glad my health is being restored after suffering for over eight years with indigestion and rheumatism that I feel like telling everybody about Tanlac," was the enthusiastic statement made recently by Mrs. M. E. Smith, one of the best known and most highly respected women of Tampa, Fla., residing at 906 Morgan St., in that city. Mrs. Smith's statement is a most remarkable one and will be read with interest by a host of devoted friends.

In referring to her recovery, Mrs. Smith said: "The rheumatism from which I had suffered for years even before I had stomach trouble, pained me worse than ever and until recently I was not only unable to walk without the use of a cane, but I was so weak at times I could hardly get out of bed. I tried many medicines but nothing helped me and I almost despaired of ever getting any better.

"Then Tanlac came along and it was helping so many people here in Tampa, my son brought me a bottle and it had such a wonderful effect on me that I immediately sent for five more bottles. In just a few days after I began taking this grand medicine, my appetite began to improve and in only a short time I was able to enjoy my meals and everything seemed to agree with me perfectly.

"My rheumatism is so much better and I have so much more strength I am now able to walk all about the house and up and down the stairs without my cane. Friends who have been come so accustomed to seeing me walk with my cane are astonished when they see me now walking around without it.

"I will always praise Tanlac for what it has done for me and I am only too glad to have an opportunity to recommend it to my friends."

Tanlac is sold in Washington by C. S. Haver, in Lowell by Mason's Drug Store, in Jeffersonville by J. B. Davis, in Octa by I. W. Murphy and in Millersville, E. L. Ford Sons, Lee Orman, Selden. — Advt.

IT'S FOOLISH TO SUFFER LONGER

Mr. McClure says every one can get relief just like he did. Three bottles of Dreco fixed him up fine. Also took the ache out of his rheumatism and banished a severe case of constipation.

"I've found out from my own experience that it is foolish for people to be annoyed any longer by catarrh," said Mr. Charles F. McClure of 22536 Mt. Pleasant Pike, Hamilton, O.

"I know what it is to hawk and spit and try to clear your nose, throat and head for a couple of hours every morning. I know what it is to have a constant dripping into my throat that keeps me constantly trying to clear it out. I also know what heavy breathing and unsound sleep catarrh causes and the head noises too.

"But I also know after trying lots of remedies, what will go right to the seat of the trouble and over come these annoying symptoms, Dreco will do it. Dreco did it for me and it's foolish for people to suffer like this when this grand medicine is within the reach of everyone.

"Dreco also eased a bad case of aching rheumatic joints; got my bowels to acting regular every day, whereas, before I used to be severely constipated. This is great medicine and I strongly advise sufferers to give it a trial."

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Washington C. H. by Frank Christopher.—Advt.

DEMONSTRATION WAS GREATEST HELD IN OHIO

Between 4,000 and 5,000 Persons Witness Work of Advanced Motor Machinery.

Banquet For Ford Agents Held in Evening Ends Unusual Event.

It is the consensus of opinion among the farmers of south central Ohio that the demonstration given on the Howat farm Tuesday by the Ford Motor Company of Detroit was one of the biggest and most practical demonstrations ever given along farm machinery lines in this part of the state.

Estimates place the number of persons visiting the demonstration during the day at between 4,000 and 5,000. These people were intensely interested in the development of farm machinery and in many instances were surprised at the rapid advancements which have been made by the use of motors.

The demonstration was a full exhibit of the use of modern motorized farm machinery at practical work by the Ford Motor Company working in co-operation with the Ortman Motor Company, of this city, one of the largest establishments of its kind in the state.

One of the features of the exhibit that had never been seen before in the demonstrations of the Ford machinery was the fact that much of the machinery was manned by local men. Fearing a freight tie-up that would delay the demonstration the Ortman company officials decided to move their own supplies to the show grounds and when the experts arrived on the scene from the factory they were surprised to find men from this community and city operating the tractors and other pieces of machinery. The local men who had part in this work were Earl Scott, Walter Wolfe, Robert Johnson, Wert Allen, Lowell Brown and Fred Eggleston.

During the day an oats field was threshed and cleared, straw baled, and the ground re-seeded. The machine threshed 1150 bushels from 40 acres and the grain was hauled to a local elevator.

Dinner at Y. M. C. A.

In the evening the Ford Motor Company, of Columbus, assisted by the Ortman Motor Company, were hosts at a delectable course dinner served to the southern Ohio dealers who had been present at the demonstration during the day. About thirty-five men were guests.

The responsibility of dealers giving conscientious service to farmers buying tractors was the keynote of an after dinner talk given by H. M. Buckley, manager of the Ford Motor Company Branch in Columbus. Mr. Buckley complimented M. E. Hitchcock and V. J. Hoppes of the local company on their part in the demonstration and he pointed to the Ortman Motor Company as one of the most successful and best established branch offices in Ohio.

Counsel and co-operation with dealers was offered by E. H. Bryant, of Columbus, the Ohio distributor of special Ford implements.

On behalf of the Ortman Motor Co., M. E. Hitchcock, general manager, sketched the method of his company in handling business. He praised the Ford Company in making consistent service possible.

Officials Present.

Many officials of the Ford Motor Company and of branch offices from all over the state were in attendance at the demonstration. The list as far as available included: H. M. Buckley, manager of the Ford Motor Company, Columbus; J. W. Watson, J. O. Townsend, C. L. Churchill and H. R. Foster, of Columbus; Mr. Matson, of the Ford Motor Company Branch of Cincinnati; Mr. Friend, of the Ford Motor Company, of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. Davis and Mr. Miller, from the Oliver Plow Works, South Bend, Ind.; G. M. Moyer of the Roderick-Lean Manufacturing Company, at Mansfield; Stewart Arthur and J. H. McKaig, of the American Seeding Machine Company, Springfield; Mr. Steadman, of Ann Arbor, Mich. Co., at Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mr. Ottwell, of the Ottwell Mower Company, of Detroit, Mich.

Film Movies.

Moving pictures of all activities were taken by a representative of the Ford factory and these will be shown at the theaters all over the country under the head of the regular "Ford Specials."

Courtesy Extended.

For the co-operation which the merchants of Washington offered in making the day one of unlimited success the Ortman Motor Company has made itself indebted and also to Marion Wilson, who has the lease on the Howat farm, and who gave the use of the field for the demonstration.

JAP STEEL WORKS MAY AMALGAMATE

(By Associated Press)
Tokio, (By Mail).—Amalgamation of all the steel works in Japan, in order to tide over the present trade condition, is reported under consideration by the Japanese government, the authorities of which are said to be investigating the possibilities of a nationwide merger.

The iron market continues weak, owing to the slump in quotations and the decrease in demand, although the amount of iron imported from the United States aggregates nearly 2,000 tons a month in accordance with the contracts signed last year.

In these circumstances, pessimistic views are being now entertained by some of the iron dealers, and a number of the steel works have been obliged to close. The output for the first half of the current year, therefore, is expected to result in a decrease of nearly 30 per cent, with even worse prospects for the latter half of the year.

Still at "Outs"

The electric light and power rates for Washington continue uppermost in the thoughts of citizens.

It is well to begin the consideration of this matter, of such great importance, with the frank acknowledgement that none of us wants to pay more for electric current than we are paying now. It is well to acknowledge, too, that all of us have a lingering prejudice against gas and electric companies because of the record those companies, generally speaking, created in the years gone by.

We should all recognize, however, that the basis for that prejudice no longer exists. The public utilities companies are required, by legal restrictions, to travel the straight and narrow path and, therefore, it should not be difficult for us to lay aside those prejudices and deal with facts.

The city council on Monday night refused the application of the local company for permission to increase its rates for electric current and that seems to end the matter, for the time at least, so far as any amicable adjustment is concerned.

Under the present schedule the electric company insists that it cannot make and deliver electric current at a living profit and that, in consequence of that condition, new services cannot be contracted for. All of which means that citizens who have built new homes or houses to rent, who need power for enterprises employing labor, must remain unsupplied. It means also that existing enterprises cannot grow and expand. It may, in the end, mean a collapse of the entire service but, of course, that is the extreme and, perhaps, too pessimistic view.

So much for conditions and prospects.

The company has submitted its full statement and its elaborate schedules of receipts and expenditures supporting it in its claim.

Thus far those statements have not been refuted nor the correctness of the facts set forth challenged.

Mr. Logan, who as attorney, associated with Solicitor Junk, has been representing the city in the controversy has presented and had published quite an exhaustive resume of the legal features but it is more the brief of the able lawyer than a plain statement of fact in denial or explanation.

We are inclined to think that Mr. Logan correctly presents the view of that majority of council which passed unfavorably on the application Monday night.

He and that majority, it seems clear, have fallen into what may, for the citizens, prove to be an unfortunate error of insisting on a technical right which, however just in law, may work a hardship in the end on citizens generally as it is already doing on a considerable number of citizens.

There seems abundant support, in law, for the contention that the electric company, in failing to take an appeal from council's order fixing the present rates, impliedly agreed to accept those rates, thus making as binding a contract as if the acceptance had been expressly and formally made. About that, however, there is room for a legal discussion.

Granted, though, that a contract for present rate schedules exists and can be established in a suit at law. What then? The correctness of the position assumed by the majority of council and the city's attorneys is established and the company is held bound to a losing contract.

Will the citizens of Washington be able, under such conditions, to get what they need—the very best service—or will they get only the minimum of service which the company can furnish, and "get by" or possibly no service if the losses grow too rapidly?

We cannot believe that such technical hair splitting basis for dealings between the company and the city should be established.

We are not now asserting that the company is correct in its statements of fact on cost and expense, but the presumptions, established by unprecedented market and business conditions, all support the contention.

We must have a care lest we drift too far afield to establish our technical legal rights and in so doing, if successful, lose that which we would gain above all things—the very best service.

It is far better, it seems to us, to agree with the electric company, amicably, to pay a fair rate for service and insure good service for the city than it is to establish a technical legal right holding the company to a losing contract and get poor service or no service at all.

We have no quarrel with the majority of council who are seeking to guard the city's interests. We differ with them only because we fear they have allowed their zeal to carry them beyond the search for a fair way out and to insist on a too technical right.

POETRY FOR TODAY

BREEZE CAME DANCING
Last night o'er the torrid city
A little cool air blew;
It brought a breath of country lanes
Drenched in the evening dew.
It spilled the scent of roses,
And the smell of fragrant grass
Brought dreams of moon-touched meadows
As its feet went dancing past.

Out of a great cloud breathing
Along the southern sky
It came with healing on its wings
The stately city by.
With freshness and with coolness
And flowery fragrance shod—
It seemed to come a spirit
From the Paradise of God.

Stiff? Sore?

A lame back, a sore muscle or a stiff joint often is considered too lightly by the sufferer. It should be remembered that backache, rheumatic pains, stiffness, soreness, a slow skin and puffiness under the eyes are symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble—and these certainly should not be neglected.

BOTH PARTIES ARE WORRIED ABOUT WILSON

The Republican Campaign Would Like to Center Attack on President.

Cox Naturally Wants to Run on Own Personality and Own Issues.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Washington, D. C., August 4.—Just what is to be the position of President Wilson in the coming campaign is a question that will not down: it worries both the Democrats and the Republicans. To each party it presents an aspect which differs, of course, but which in both cases is equally acute and embarrassing. With the Democrats the question is: To what degree will Wilson personally and Wilson's immediate friends put themselves powerfully and enthusiastically behind Cox? This, in turn, rests on the question: To what degree will Cox give generous approval to Wilson in his coming speech of acceptance, and in his later conduct of the campaign?

With the Republicans the question is: To what extent will they be able to make Wilson the chief point of attack during the coming campaign? The Republicans would like very much to make Wilson the chief object of assault. Their mood is such that they would be entirely willing to base their chances of winning on that line of assault alone. Whether they can do this, of course, depends in a degree on how far Cox identifies himself with Wilson. And so the whole question is, for the managers of both parties, interrelated and interwoven.

Wilson and Wilsonism

Undoubtedly the Republicans some months ago fully expected to be able to talk "Wilson and Wilsonism" throughout the entire campaign. The Republican leaders thought the Democrats would surely name McAdoo. They counted on that and they counted on tying the President and his son-in-law tightly together. There is a story current in the highest circles of the Democratic leadership to the effect that the Republican managers were so confident of McAdoo's nomination that before the Democratic Convention the Republican management had already printed a large amount of campaign material directed against McAdoo. Whether the story is true or not, your correspondent does not know. It would be characteristic of the alert forwardness of the Republican management to do it. But all that your correspondent can say is that the highest of the Democratic leaders believe the story is true. They have some evidence to support it.

While the Democratic Convention was in session and when it looked as if McAdoo would get the nomination, some of the most important Republican newspapers in the country handled the news from day to day in a way that could only be explained on the theory that they were trying to make a flying start and gather as much momentum as possible for anti-dynasty "anti-crown prince" campaign. It is no figure of speech, but literal fact, that these Republican papers, like the San Francisco Chronicle and others equally important, used such words and phrases as "the dynastic succession," "hereditary crown prince" and "royal family" in a way that expressed a gloating intention to capitalize the relationship between Wilson and McAdoo. Just before the Democratic Convention an important Republican paper, which speaks more or less authoritatively, said:

Wilson Center of Attack

"The Republicans have at their disposal an infallible receipt for victory this year. All they need to do is to make Wilson, Wilsonism and the Wilson dynasty the issue."

"It is even easier than that. All they need to do is to permit Wilsonism to remain the issue. It is the issue now."

"The central subject of serious debate is President Wilson, his policies, his personality, his blunders, his egotism, his magnificent self-sufficiency, his theory of government by intuition."

"If the question can be put squarely to the American people: 'Do you or do you not endorse the Wilson Administration, and do you or do you not favor a perpetuation of the Wilson dynasty?' there can be no doubt as to the answer."

"... They (Democrats) cannot escape responsibility for Wilsonism, even if they reveal an eleventh-hour intelligence, if not independence, and seek to flee the sinking ship. They have permitted Wilsonism. The Republicans should register at the coming election a smashing and unforgettable condemnation of Wilsonism, and should not permit themselves the indulgence of flying other kites which might possibly attract a fatal lightning stroke.

"Keep the limelight on Wilson and win!"

The Republican papers which talk like this do not admit that the situation is changed by, to express it in their own words, "the intelligence if not independence" of the Democrats in failing to name President Wilson's son-in-law. These Republican papers and leaders still claim that the issue is Wilsonism. As one of them has expressed it, even after the nomination of Cox, "the democracy must defend the Administration and all its works in the campaign. It cannot apologize for the last seven years and at the same time ask for a chance to try it again. The Wilson policies and the Wilson mistakes cannot be ignored. They must be defended."

Surprised by Nomination

It is on this theory, that "Wilson and Wilsonism" is the issue, that the Republicans have conducted so much of their campaign as has already taken place. So apparent is this fact that a Democratic leader remarked the other day that "if Wilson should happen to die, the Republican campaign would collapse—they would have nothing to talk about." This remark is so true that sooner or later the Republican leaders must realize it.

And yet, while the Republicans are still talking "Wilson and Wilsonism," it is apparent to one who moves about among the party managers that they have been made a little uncertain and less confident by the surprise which the Democrats gave them in turning down McAdoo and naming a candidate as distant as possible from being identified with the Wilson Administration.

And right here is where the dilemma comes up to Cox. He knows that the Republicans are eager to keep the issue "Wilson and Wilsonism." He naturally and properly, wants to get away from that issue. He wants to run on his own personality, his own record and his own issues. But the minute he starts to get away from the Wilson issue he encounters embarrassments within his own camp. He dare not act too pointedly or to get so far away from Wilson as to offend Wilson and Wilson's friends. Wilson's friends are among the ablest of the Democratic leaders and spellbinders. Cox, to be successful, must have not merely their perfunctory support but their enthusiastic activity in the campaign.

Cox Has His Own Plans

These friends of Wilson are watching Cox carefully to see what moves he makes and especially to see what he says in his acceptance speech. The strain in this situation is quite apparent to all who move about in the orbits of the two factions. It is quite true that Wilson personally recognizes that the sceptre of party leadership has passed, that Cox is now in command. He has told Cox as much. But, although Wilson has tendered formal abdication to Cox, it is still true that Wilson's heart is in his great cause and no one doubts that if Cox fails to give a one hundred per cent devotion to the League of Nations as Wilson conceives it then Wilson will be deeply offended, and Wilson's friends as well.

VACATION SPASMS

Your correspondent estimates that eventually Cox will seek to avoid putting the emphasis of his campaign on Wilson and Wilson's League of Nations. Every probability points toward an effort on his part to create a new issue of his own, an issue of progressive versus reactionary. As to the Republicans, it is doubtful whether they will fail to see the unwisdom of basing their whole campaign on denunciation of one man, who, before the campaign ends, may be eclipsed in the public eye by the greater energy of the new leader, who might indeed, to state every possibility, cease to exist in the public eye except as the figure of a martyr passed on. Moreover, in any event, the public is likely to realize the unfairness of making Cox carry all the liabilities of his predecessor. The public could readily come to feel that there is doubt as to justice in the Republican effort to talk of "Cox" as merely another name for Wilson. The public is likely to feel that Cox is entitled to a hearing, and even, maybe, a trial, on his own account. Or, course, if the Republicans choose to broaden their slogan to the old-fashioned "Turn the Democrats out," that would be entirely legitimate and would not carry the dangers of the narrower aim at Wilson personally.

Mrs. John E. Greene delightfully entertained at an elegant dinner Wednesday noon in accordance with a custom established some years ago of celebrating her birthday and that of Mrs. H. O. Burris, happening to come on that same day, at a joint function.

Mrs. Burris was one of the seven McKay sisters, belonging to a well known family of the Sabina neighborhood, five of these sisters pupils of Mrs. Greene, when she was Miss Jessie Bell one of Fayette's successful teachers.

The friendship between the families led to many mutual interests and the anniversary dinner is always a most anticipated event, held at one of the homes.

With Mrs. Burris, Mrs. Greene entertained six of the seven sisters, Mrs. John Butterfield, Mrs. F. M. Rotenfield, Mrs. William Pavey, Mrs. E. K. Luttrell, Mrs. Sabina, Mrs. Carey O. Deere, of the Snowhill pike, and two of their daughters, Misses Naomi Butterfield and Margaret Burris, of Sabina.

The table was prettily decked with nasturtiums and whiteclematis.

Beyond the rows and rows of white crosses marking the graves of American soldiers at Bony, France, is a little wooden house. Sorrowing mothers and fathers viewing the last resting place of their boys go to the little house for rest and comfort, and are met at the door by a sweet-faced Ohio woman.

She is Mrs. Lulu Frick Taylor, of Wooster, Ohio, who is in charge of the Y. W. C. A. Rest House at Bony Cemetery, where mostly men of the 27th division are buried. The only American in a large district, she brings comfort and help to many. Last fall only ten French people had returned to the little village which had been devastated by the war. To-day 100 sturdy folks are working hard to rebuild their homes. To them Mrs. Taylor appears as a guardian angel. She has given first aid, been called on for everything from nursing to doctoring, and acted as friend in general.

The American mothers who come to her door bear witness to her mission of sympathy and courage-giving. And always just outside her door she had the stretch of green with uniform white crosses "like acres of lilies." No flowers may be planted on the graves, although cut flowers may be placed there. Returned visitors say the broad expanse of green and white overwhelms them with its impressiveness.

The Y. W. C. A. and Red Cross maintain Rest Huts at four cemeteries in France, Bony, Belleau Wood, Fere en Tardenois, and Romagne. Near other cemeteries are French hotels or French homes caring for visitors, but at these four places the Rest Houses, furnished by the Red Cross and staffed by the Y. W. C. A., are the only places where were pilgrims can go. At Romagne which has the only Rest House with sleeping rooms a charge is made of only $1.00 a day for room and meals.

Bony may become one of the four permanent field of honor, where all American dead will be gathered, according to Ralph Hayes, of Cleveland, secretary to Secretary Baker. Other fields of honor would be Romagne, Belleau Woods and Suresne.

The good fairy of Bony, Mrs. Taylor spent two years at Lake Erie College, Ohio, and one at Goucher. She has traveled extensively in Europe, taught for a year at Oak Lane, Pa., and was house director of the Martha Cook building at Ann Arbor, Michigan. She has been in France since March 1918.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF FLORENCE VINCENT

The Church of Christ was crowded Tuesday afternoon when Rev. G. E. Groves conducted the funeral services of Miss Florence Vincent.

The services were deeply affecting, the many friends of this young woman greatly saddened in her loss and sympathy to the fullest extent with the parents and only sister.

Rev. Groves made a beautiful talk, speaking with warm appreciation of the quiet sleeper surrounded by a wealth of flowers, and offering all that was possible of comfort to her family.

Six close friends, Misses Verrelle Dowler, Cleo Hoskins, Artie Judy, Mildred Lambert, Ruth Riley and Goldie Brown, acted as pallbearers.

The burial was made in the Washington cemetery.

Besides the beautiful floral remembrances from numerous friends there were special designs from the J. W. Willis Lumber Co. and the C. H. Brownell & Sons Packing House.

Relatives who came from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Vincent, Zanesville; Mrs. Jennie Zimmerman, South Charleston; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Borton and daughter Mamie Marcell of Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Borton, the only sister, did not receive word of Miss Vincent's illness until too late to reach her before the end.

MEMOIR.

Florence, daughter of Stephen and Emma A. Vincent, was born in Fayette county, June 14, 1896 and was summoned from this earthly life August 1, 1920, aged 24 years, 1 month and 17 days. FILE TEST SUIT IN EFFORT TO COMPEL SERVICE Friendly Action To Ascertain Citizen's Rights in Connection With Gas & Electric Company.

Henry B. and C. H. Brownell Ask That Company be Compelled to Connect Garage.

The legal action, of a friendly character, promised at the Monday night session of council to ascertain whether a citizen of Washington can obtain service from The Washington Gas & Electric Company under existing agreements, has been instituted in the court of common pleas, by Henry B. and C. H. Brownell, as parties, and John Logan is attorney for the plaintiffs.

The formal style of the suit is State of Ohio as relator of Henry B. Brownell and C. H. Brownell, vs. The Washington Gas & Electric Company, and the action is in the nature of mandamus proceedings to compel the defendant power company to install proper connections to furnish light and power to a garage recently erected and wired by the relators at their packing plant on South North and Sycamore streets.

The plaintiffs state that electric light and power are necessary in their garage for the purpose of properly conducting their business, and that the defendant on August 2nd refused to connect a service line with the wiring installed by the plaintiffs.

The relators declare that on February 18, 1889 the city granted to the defendant company a franchise for the purpose of furnishing light and power to citizens, and that the firm is engaged as a public utility corporation in producing and distributing electric current, and now refuses to perform its duty as such a company. A writ of mandamus is asked to compel installation of the necessary connections to the garage.

The Court has given the defendant company until August 9th to show cause.

UNION LEADER FOR HARDING

(By Associated Press)

Marion, O., August 3. — Senator Harding held a conference today with T. V. O'Connor of Buffalo, president of the International Longshoremen's Association at which the labor situation was discussed generally and the candidate was assured of the support of the labor leader.

In a statement issued by Mr. O'Connor after the conference, he said in part:

"I have heard a good deal of various traders that are going to deliver the labor vote this year, but I want to say the nobody will deliver it. Labor is thinking as never before and its going to vote to suit itself.

"It seems very plain to me that labor must support the Republican party this year. If the Democrats should win, the government would be turned over to the control of the solid South—and the machine dominating Democratic states of the north.

"The solid south will be the dominant partner and the south has been utterly reactionary in its attitude toward labor.

LUNACY CHARGE FOLLOWS ASSAULT

Following an assault made upon Attorney John Logan, late Tuesday evening, by Robert Allemang, of Bloomingburg, a charge of lunacy was filed against the latter by Attorney Logan, and Allemang was placed under arrest at his home in Bloomingburg, later being released in custody of his father until the hearing which was set for Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock before Probate Judge Rell G. Allen.

The charge followed an assault which occurred at the foot of the stairway in the Judy Block on Main street as Attorney Logan was passing Allemang and is said to have been the result of ill-feeling growing out of the fact that Attorney Logan represented Mrs. Allemang in a divorce action and subsequent action in connection with the custody of a minor child.

Wednesday afternoon inquest before Judge Allen was postponed until Friday, August 13th.

WOMAN BITTEN BY COPPERHEAD

Mrs. Wert Wolfe, Eastern Avenue, is in a serious condition at her home as result of being bitten by a copperhead snake Tuesday afternoon while picking blackberries in Ross county. The poison of the snake bite has penetrated her system to the extent that eruptions have appeared on her arms.

Mrs. Wolfe, with a party of other women from this city, was gathering berries when she felt a sharp sting just above her right ankle. Thinking that it had been a thorn she paid no attention until a few minutes afterwards the limb became painful and it was discovered that a snake had struck her.

First aid was rendered by her companions until medical assistance could be obtained.

CROWDS WAIT FOR OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE JOURNEY

(By Associated Press)

Constantinople, (By Mail)—Travel in the Levant has become so difficult that hotels in nearly all the larger cities are crowded with persons waiting for steamer and railway accommodations. Strikes in Bulgaria, Serbia and Italy, together with the lack of through trains and the impossibility of getting checked baggage through because of theft, have forced travelers to rely chiefly on steamers to French ports. The steamer lines have also been badly disorganized by labor troubles and most ships are many days behind their schedules.

Although the United States Shipping Board has many ships into Constantinople and other large near Eastern ports, it has no regular passenger sailings and women are not permitted to travel on most shipping board boats unless they are in government service. Consequently Americans have great difficulty in getting through sailings to America. Major E. E. Booth, who was formerly with the shipping board in Paris, has been transferred to Constantinople as director of shipping board affairs in the Near East and is endeavoring to get changes effected which will make travel easier to and from America.

F. C. Tobey, representing the Harriman Line, which is about to establish sailing to the Black Sea, was in Constantinople recently and said it is likely that line will establish monthly passenger sailings from New York to the Levant.

POULTRY CULLING PAYS WELL IN OHIO

Records kept on demonstration farms in Ohio show that the poultry flock which is producing a large number of eggs per hen is producing those eggs at a greater profit than before the war, when feed prices were low. They also show that the farm flock which averages a low production per hen is kept at a greater loss than when feed prices were low.

"In most instances the egg production can be increased by proper feeding, and farmers in general are practicing better feeding methods," says E. L. Daken, poultry specialist at the Ohio State University. "Feed alone, however, will not solve the problem. It is necessary to follow a system of breed improvement by selection which will eliminate the poor egg producer and her offspring, and leave only the high egg producer for the breeding and laying pens."

Prof Daken recommends culling in July, August, and September the hens that show: 1. Well developed molting distinctly contracted comb and wattles. 2. Dry, contracted abdomen with a dry wrinkled puckered vent. 3. Yellow shanks and beak.

More complete information in culling may be had without cost in a pamphlet on this subject just issued by the Agricultural College Extension Service, Columbus, Ohio.

It will be a record crop. Last year 1,453,000,000 pounds were produced from sugar beets and the average production for the five years, 1914-18, was 1,577,200,000 pounds.

The Economy of Using Goodyear Small Car Tires

So-called bargain tires, made up for sensational sales and offered at ridiculously low prices, do not attract careful buyers.

They are far more concerned with what they get than with what they pay because they know that in the end it is performance and not price that delivers actual tire economy.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30x3-, 30x3½- and 31x4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they deliver exceptional mileage at exceedingly low cost.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

30 x 3½ Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread $23.50

30 x 3½ Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? 30 x 3½ size in waterproof bag $4.50

MT. OLIVE CHURCH HOME COMING SUNDAY

Mt. Olive church, according to its annual custom, holds its anniversary celebration on Sunday, August the eighth.

This year the purpose is to embody home coming features with the anniversary program and to make the day one long to be remembered. At noon there will be a basket dinner in the church basement and an hour of renewing friendships, in which it is hoped that everyone interested in this church association at any time will participate.

The afternoon will offer a splendid program, including a number of addresses by good speakers, both at home and abroad. Rev. Floyd Gale will be in charge.

Everyone who feels an interest is cordially invited to share in Home Coming Anniversary Sunday.

WILL REQUIRE FIFTY DAYS TO RESURFACE

Trouble with the mixing plant is causing delays in laying the resurfacing material on the uptown streets. It was stated by an official of the company Tuesday that with everything in good working order the entire contracts could be completed in thirty-five days, but that with the delays which they had experienced during the last two weeks still hanging on, that close to fifty days would be a more conservative estimate.

Asphalt is being rolled on Court street and the main street of the city will soon be resurfaced.

American animals and birds are being sent to the London zoo. Deer, sea lions, prairie dogs, beaver, porcupine and opossums and two hundred species of birds have been presented by the Zoological Society of New York.

M'GHEE INDORSED BY JUDSON HARMON FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

Columbus, Ohio August 4th Joseph McGhee, former Attorney General of Ohio, has been indorsed for renomination on the Democratic ticket by former Governor Judson Harmon, of Cincinnati. In a letter to Mr. McGhee the former Governor says:

"I am glad that you are standing for the nomination as Attorney General and hope that you will be nominated and elected, as you ought to be. "You made a fine record in that office during the World War, and I think all the voters feel, as I do, that those who served faithfully and efficiently during that trying and exacting time should have practical remembrance in the days of peace. "You have had one term, and deserve another."
